The 1960 TREASURE CHEST

Published by the students of
MADISON HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL
Anderson, Indiana

Foreword

Our Treasure Chest--a wealth of growing traditions with each class.

When we look back upon our school, perhaps years from now, most of all we will remember the thrill of each new year and each new class. That is the reason we, the annual staff, have based your annual on the growth of our new traditions.

Although our school is a mere four years old, we feel that it has already accomplished a tremendous undertaking--that of making our school a better place in which to learn. This task can be fulfilled only by a growing and changing Madison Heights endeavoring to meet your needs and desires.

We believe that this annual of 1960 will convey to you a true picture of your classes, your traditions, and your Madison Heights.

In Recognition Of

Tim Barker, past president, and Dan Imel, president, discuss the accomplishments of the class which strives to give to the school the best it has.

This class holds the distinct high honor of being the first class to have completed its entire four-years of senior high school at Madison Heights. The students of this class have established traditions which have set a precedent for underclassmen to follow.

This enterprising class, however, has not been able to attain these standards unaided. It has been led forward by its officers and wisely advised by parents and teachers alike.

It is with great pride and admiration that we--the Treasure Chest Staff--dedicate this annual to the outstanding Class of 1960.

The Lawsons, favorite man and wife team in Madison Heights, exemplify the teacher-parent combination which leads to a better understanding between faculty and students. This traditional relationship has spurred the Senior Class to higher goals and achievements.

Class of '60 sponsors, Mr. Henry McLain and Mr. Mike Sokol, work hard at keeping cool heads while guiding the class.

A successful class is molded not only at school but also in the homes where knowing parents guide faltering footsteps and build future citizens:

Growing Traditions

Sue Pittsford, Myrna Richman, and Barb Ferguson extend a cheery greeting to all from the winning senior float, a new tradition proudly set by seniors this year.

The frenzy of taking tests and filling out college applications is a tradition limited not only to Madison Heights. Here Mr. Wimmer talks over the results of the N.M.S.T. with Ann Waggoner.

With Each Class

One of the most important annual events is the election of class officers.

Traditions Are Accepted

Lunch hour finds Julie Reeder "cramming" for that big test sixth period.

Rosalind Winsor, better known as the butterfly chaser, is one of the enthusiastic freshman biology students.

An unpleasant but necessary task, that of locker clean-up, falls to all classes.

Each day we proudly display the flag of our country. This and various displays, such as the Freedom Shrine in the front hall, serve to remind the students of our great heritage of free education and our duties as citizens of our school and country.

By Underclassmen

Customs Formed

"Like to go to the Prom with me?" Bob McKee voices a popular query heard every spring around Madison.

Counting election returns is a duty adeptly carried out by the Student Council. Here Bobbie Edmundson, elections chairman, and Tony Kirkpatrick, Student Council president, wade through this year's batch of juniors' ballots for class officers.

Madison Heights' band, having won many awards in the past year, has already established noteworthy traditions in music for our young school.

By Upperclassmen

The Dance Band entertains itself while displaying the talents of its superior musicians at an after-game-soc-hop.

Seniors sell concessions to support their class, the"Nifty Sixties".

Observing Senior Day by wearing charcoal sweaters and white skirts are Anne Rummel, Judy Friend, Jan Tharp, Betty Gilmore, and Jane Bardsley.

Accepted And Appreciated By The Entire School.

Everyone had a good time at the Student Council sponsored Halloween Dance which was open to the whole school.

The length of the cafeteria line at noon seems to indicate that Madison Heights has well-nourished students.

Academic Excellence...

It is only fitting that the academic leaders should open the Academic Section. These students have maintained a nearly perfect record from the freshman through the senior years; the valedictorians each earned straight A semester averages while the salutatorians earned all A's and five B's. Their hard, conscientious, and time-consuming efforts, however, will reward them more fully in the future than do the titles which they receive here.

Seniors aren't always this messy. It is the traditional Sloppy Day.

The day when seniors find out who the fatheads really are and how much everyone weighs comes under the pretext of ordering caps and gowns.

Can the seniors can-can? They can and they did at the Senior Talent Convo!

And as our "Golden Years" draw to a close, the traditional announcements are ordered to inform our friends and relatives (and maybe to hint about something else).

Starting on her search for the "right" college, Sandy Prather consults Mr. Wimmer on the advantages which Ball State has to offer.

The next step, visiting the campus, takes Sandy and her parents to Ball State where she forms a "first-hand" opinion.

Apparently Sandy and Ball State both liked each other as we find Sandy acquiring more knowledge in the college library.

Through the co-operation of high schools and the Anderson businessmen, junior students visited local industries and businesses to get a firsthand look at what might be their future places of employment. This year, 800 students spent a day visiting numerous Anderson professions.

The M. H. H. S. Student Council is, in effect, the student body's only form of representation. It is composed of six officers elected by the student body, eight representatives at large, twenty-eight home room representatives, three class presidents, and ten standing committee chairman. To this council, the student may bring problems he wants solved which would otherwise be forgotten. Madison Heights is fortunate to have such a tremendous Council. Although the Council is only four years old, it is firmly established with many accomplishments behind it. Thanks to the administration, the Council has been given much power with which to work. With this authority, power, organization, and so many accomplishments, we can truly say---Your Student Council---Onward and Upward.

The Student Council's main objective is to provide activities for the student body. The Council is in charge of all soc-hops, school decorations, convocations and programs.

During the course of the 1959-60 school year, the student body has enjoyed soc-hops, school decorations at Christmas, and several interesting and informative convocations, including a personal appearance of Tony Marvin.

All of these activities have one common denominator--that of making Madison Heights High School a better place to live, work, and learn.

The beginnings of a new tradition finally take shape in the lobby. Student body presidents, valedictorians, award winners of the past caught the attention of parents at the school open-house.

The day started with discussion groups concerning school problems. Upon returning to Madison Heights after a luncheon at Linder's, the delegates danced to records spun by Bill Baker of W. I. B. C. Following a second discussion period, a business meeting was held in the gymnasium where Mr. Robert Collier gave the closing address on the importance of the Student Council.

Annual Staff

Annual Staff at work

The annual staff of Madison Heights High School deserves much praise and credit from every student. Without this hard-working crew, we would not have a yearbook.

Working every spare minute, the staff strives to make each annual the best our school has ever had.

The members join together as a team to make each Treasure Chest an invaluable memory in the years to follow.

The Brush and Palette Club, under the capable direction of Mr. John Riley, was organized for the benefit of those students who are interested in the different fields of art. The goal of the club is to help students appreciate and develop their talent and learn more about the field which interests them. The art club offers its members the opportunity of learning how to paint posters, make attractive decorations, and eye-catching signs in addition to the countless other jobs they do for teachers and individual students. This well-organized group finds its work both interesting and stimulating.

The motto of the Future Teachers Club is "Student Today; Teacher Tomorrow." This organization was instituted two years ago for students who are interested in careers as teachers. Throughout the year, the students learned various methods of teaching which they have exercised. The initial activity of the club was its entry in the 1959 Homecoming Parade. This year's school newspaper, the "Jolly Roger", which is a member of IHSPA, is headed by Mrs. Jones, the sponsor. It has proved to be one of the best school papers Madison Heights has ever had. The paper covered a broad area of news which provided interest to all. The special six page Christmas issue was in color and was a great success.

Apprentices become Thespians by completing one hundred hours of work divided among the three areas of acting, stage construction, and speech. Prom Queen - Cindy Hunt

Cindy Hunt, our only junior cheerleader, was selected by the junior boys to reign over an interlude all her own, the 1960 Junior-Senior Prom. Cindy, beautifully attired in a full-length, white gown, was attended by Miss Judy Webb and Miss Karen Turner.

Karen Turner's friendly smile added to the sparkle of the Junior-Senior Prom as an attendant.

Hawaiian Interlude

Using a Hawaiian theme, the ambitious Class of '61 transformed the Madison Heights Multi-Purpose Room into a pastel paradise which they called their "Hawaiian Interlude".

The night of Friday, May 13, 1960, will always be remembered by the Classes of '60 and '61 for the exotic decorations, the dreamy Phi Mu Crew music, and the fun of the "Hawaiian Interlude".

Lovely Judy Webb, attendant, truely is qualified for one of the greatest honors a junior girl may receive.

Queen, Karen Turner

The annual parade of cleverly decorated cars and floats kicked off the Madison Heights homecoming festivities on September 25, 1959. The parade was followed by an exciting football game between our Pirates and the Elwood Panthers. The homecoming was highlighted by the crowning of the 1959 homecoming queen, Miss Karen Turner. Her court consisted of Misses Penny Boyes, Carmen Goodrich, and Carol Dew.

Mardi Gras

"Judy, I was wondering if you" . . . . "OK! What'll we wear?"

Reflecting the gaiety and pomp of New Orleans, the Spanish Club's Mardi Gras Ball given on March 18 was an exciting evening of "eating, drinking, and being merry." Costumed guests whirled about the brightly colored cafeteria to the music of the M.H.H.S. Dance Band.

"The Admirable Crichton", written by the famous Scottish writer, Sir James Barrie, and ably directed by Mr. John Ravage, was presented by the Senior Class on November 18 and 19, 1959.

The Play was a dramatic fantasy. The Earl of Loam, his family, and one or two friends were wrecked on a desert island where the butler, the "Admirable Crichton", proved himself a man of infinite resource and power far superior to the rest of the party.

Fraternizing and "brownying" occupy much of the time between 12:00 and 12:50 although few students admit to either.

Looks hopeless, doesn't it, Debby?

"Ah", sighs Larry, "basketball does have its moments - all kinds of fans: big ones, small ones, fat ones, skinny ones, smart ones, dumb ones, graceful ones, awkward ones, and mostly girls!"

Now that wire-tapping is illegal, Rick employs another method to check on one of his school activities, De Anna.

Athletic Awards

A Madison Height's athlete may aspire to win several awards. As a first year man his athletic achievements are rewarded by the presentation of freshmen numerals. As he progresses to his sophomore year, he receives either a major letter or a reserve letter depending on the extent of his varsity competition. In his junior year, he earns a major award which is a sweater with a major letter on it. The highest award presented to a M.H. athlete is a jacket symbolizing participation in three varsity sports in three different seasons and can be given to seniors only.

Through his ability to play football, Nolan Reed brought great fame to Madison Heights and to himself when he was selected by both major newspaper polls as a member of the Indiana prep all-state pigskin team. Nolan richly deserved this honor as he was undoubtedly the most versatile gridder in the state.

This 6'6", 220 pound end was also selected honorary captain and most valuable player by his teammates.

The Pirates opened the football season by tackling the Anderson Indians. Nolan Reed scored on a 22 yard touchdown pass from Don Lutton and kicked the extra point.

After being down 20 points at the half, the Pirates out-scored the N.C.C. power from New Castle 25 to 20 in the final two stanzas. Richard Pine scored two touchdowns on runs of 39 and 13 yards. Don Lutton sneaked over from the one and heaved an aerial to Nolan Reed for the Buc's other touchdown.

Our huge Buc line ground the willing Highland forward wall into submission in the first Pirate victory of the young season. Fleet-footed Richard Pine scampered for three six pointers on jaunts of 32, 57, and 2 yards.

Big Ted Arnold caught a touchdown pass and ran a kick-off back through the entire Highland team for 78 yards and another Buc touchdown. Quick-thinking quarterback Don Lutton raced 74 yards to paydirt and fired another Lutton-to-Reed special to end the scoring. Reed converted three times for the victors.

The Elwood Panthers spoiled the Madison Heights Homecoming by tallying touchdowns in three of four quarters. Richard Pine rammed across from the one for the Pirate's only marker.

After playing Warren Central on even terms the first half, the Pirates were surprised by a 20 point fourth quarter splurge and fell to their opponent 26 to 0.

Although the Pirates had the edge in statistics, the Noblesville Millers capitilized on five Madison Heights tumbles to overcome the Bucs 32-13. A Lutton-to-Reed aerial and Richard Pine's 5 yard sprint were good for Madison Heights touchdowns.

The Pirates played an inspired game against the strong Hornets, but like many other of the Hornets' opponents, they got stung. All of Madisons' touchdowns were the results of passes. Reed scored two, one a 78 yard play with Lutton on the other end, and a 10 yarder from Mike Mundy. A Lutton-to-Pine pass closed the night's pointmaking.

Richard Pine's 1 foot plunge with 15 seconds left gave the Pirates a hard fought victory over the favored Alexandria Tigers. Pine also scored in the first 15 seconds as he raced back 83 yards with the opening kick-off. Half-back, George Sasser, also tallied for the Bucs.

The Pirates closed out the season with an impressive victory over the Greenfield Tigers. A feature of the game was Nolan Reed's 38 yard field goal, which was a fitting climax to his prep grid career. Touchdowns were scored by Richard Pine, who tallied number 11 and 12, and for the sixth time Lutton hit Reed for a Pirate touchdown.

Varsity

This year's edition of the Pirate cage team provided us with an interesting and highly successful season. Although the sectional crown eluded our boys again this year, the season was one of thrilling triumphs and splendid school spirit. Our senior studded crew fell victim only five times while forcing nineteen foes to "walk the plank".

The highlight of the season were: 1. The addition of more hardware to our growning trophy case as Coach Bradford's charges took the County Tourney honors. 2. The invasion of Butler Fieldhouse and the resounding triumph over Shortridge. 3. The heartbreaking loss to Manual in what may have been the best game played by the team all season. 4. The overwhelming conquest of Lebanon. Our smooth working machine literally "dazzle the draperies" as they forced the score board beyond its limit in rolling up 101 points, the most points scored by one team in Madison County high school basketball in modern times.

Baseball

Madison Heights tied for first place in the White River Conference by defeating Elwood. In the fifteen games played, the Pirates came out on top on thirteen occasions, for a fine .866 percentage.

With Nolan Reed and Don Lutton handling the mound chores, and Phil Miller and Ted Arnold wielding the bats, the team rolled over the opposition with many runs to spare.

Track

The Pirate's fine track team established themselves as the power of the conference as they easily outdistanced the field to claim the trophy as White River Conference track champions of 1959.

It may have been fitting that the last team led by former coach, Wayne Gruber, took the honors in our conference.

Outstanding times were turned in by dashmen Rich Pine and Steve Henning, both of whom qualified for the regional meet.

Look, Ma, no hands!

The last step's the hardest!

In Memoriam

Mr. Jack Cooper

On December 11, 1959, students, teachers, and friends were saddened by the untimely death of popular young coach, Jack Cooper. A graduate of Muncie Central High School and Ball State Teachers College, Mr. Cooper was in his second year of teaching at Madison Heights. His duties were assistant varsity football coach, head wrestling coach, reserve baseball coach, and physical education and driver education teacher.

Coach Cooper embodied the qualities we honor--devotion to his family and dedication to his chosen profession. All who have been in contact with him have profited by that association. Madison Heights is a better school for his impressive tenure here.
